ATTENTION : ALL COLLECTORS OF GREAT COMIC ART !!

The SFCA has now embarked on a new innovation that we feel will open up a whole new field of collecting for the serious comic fan. In the months and years to come, we will be offering what we call "CLASSIC REPRODUCTIONS". These will be big, 10½ x 13½, black and white (half tone) reproductions of only the FINEST COMIC ART around. They are printed on heavy, high-quality, 6-ply coated pasteboard. They're suitable for framing, hanging on the wall as is, or collecting in a portfolio. In fact, you may want to buy two copies of some of your favorites, one for your wall, and one for your portfolio.

While we would all like to have a large collection of "original" comic art, the expense of such a collection is pretty discouraging. However these "Classics" (and they are just that), are about the closest thing you can get to an "original", and at a price all fans can afford. But, let's get back to the art itself, for that is really the most important thing. Most, if not all, of these reproductions will be made from original drawings and paintings (mostly paintings) by two of the most talented artists around--John Fantucchio and Don Newton!! Never has a name, "Classic Reproductions", so aptly described an item! Once you buy one, we are sure you will want to collect the entire series, which we feel will be running for years to come. So there is no telling how large your collection will eventually be.

We will try to add at least one, possibly two, new "CR's" to the series as each RB&CC comes out. However, the type of art we require*, naturally, cannot be turned out overnight. We will not be able to include illustrations of these masterpieces here because there are too many. However, you will be seeing smaller versions of some of them in the RB&CC from time to time, because we will be using some of John and Don's RB&CC art for the reproductions too.

*Other artists may submit paintings and drawings, but only the very best will be considered. We repeat, ONLY the very best. So, when you see an artist has had a painting or drawing accepted, you can be sure that artist has turned in an exceptionally fine piece of work. Absolutely no simple line drawings are accepted.

PRICES ARE AS FOLLOWS:

$1.25 each, Two for $2.00, Three for $2.70, Four for $3.20, Over four-70¢ each. If you want your copies mailed first class add 25¢ extra for each "CR" you order.

Send all orders to: THE SFCA, Dept. "CR", 9875 SW. 212 St., MIAMI, FLORIDA 33157

Dear G.B.,
We have finally moved and are now situated in Atlanta. A couple of observations: I am glad to see more fandom articles, but the ads are my prime interest. How about having more prints of golden age covers like you had on page 32 of RB&CC #62, since covers are the best of the art. (EDITOR: We have, of course, already put this suggestion into effect).
I was glad I got to know you when we lived in Key West. You helped me re-kindle my interest in comics. I think you put out some fine publications and deserve all the support you can get.

Dear G.B.,
Now that it is a confirmed fact that very soon all comics will cost 15¢, I want to voice my opinion on the danger involved. With a raise in price such as this, many people will cut down on the comics they presently buy to compensate for the price hike. 3¢ more per issue may not seem like much per se, but when a fan such as I, buys over ~~40~~ 40 comics a month, this begins to run into a little extra money. The problem that will be encountered is this: the lower circulation titles, such as METAL MEN, WONDER WOMAN, and CHALLENGERS OF THE UNKNOWN, etc. are the ones that DC is trying at present to change drastically, in order to bring up sales -- but these are the first comics that will be dropped by a fan who feels he must discontinue certain comics to make the loss of the price pise. The results of this would be instant disaster for those titles which were just getting a reprieve on life. I know how you feel about supporting comics entirely with all of our support, and I agree, but even so, I know many people will quit certain titles, as I mentioned above--let's hope not.
One last note, I'm sure that the cover of RB&CC #62 will go down as the GREATEST ever.

Dear G.B.,
Wow! The only word to desribe the New and Daring RB&CC. It was for the ads that I originally bought the zine, but I've become more involved in fanzines with articles, and the new RB&CC is just the thing. Now, when I order it, I not only look forward to increasing my collection of comics, etc. from the ads, but increasing and expanding my knowledge of comics, their history, oddities, and the people of fandom. Keep up the great work.

Dear G.B.,
First, I would like to thank you for printing the first part of my article, "The Effects of Comics", in RB&CC #62. I hope ALL of fandom enjoys and learns something from it. The cover of this issue is....unmatched!
I've only read as far as the letter column and I would like to reply to Jim Gray's letter. I am the one who sent in the scene from the Golden Age. It came from the original SUPERMAN #17. I don't recall if it was sent in before or after the reprint--but just because you, or thousands of other fans, including myself, have the reprinted issue is no reason to complain. After all, this was a photo copy of the original, NOT THE REPRINT. If G.B. hadn't eliminated the borders with the page #5 on it, would you still have complained? If I'd complain every time I saw a reprint of something I own or had seen before, then half of all the reprints would receive my veto. Remember, Jim, not everyone ~~w~~ in Fandom is lucky enough to have (or get a chance to see) the great issues of the past. I think G.B. prints "Scenes" for these collectors as well as those us who have the originals. Well, enough of my un-intended sermon. Like G.B., I also have a zine to publish, INFO, and am short on time for lengthy letters.

Dear G.B.,
Some comments on the Classic Reproductions. I now have all 8 of the CRs. Each one is excellent. I hope fandom in general solidly backs the project for these pieces of art are certainly worthwhile. I have a couple of suggestions. First, try to print all the CRs in the RB&CC as they are offered for sale. That is, use each one in some capacity in Rocket's Blast. For the past couple of issues we have only gotten to see one of the two new ones in print each issue (the Fantucchio covers). How about using the Newton piece for a back cover. How about getting ~~X~~ Jim Jones to do a CR?
Finally, some characters I Would like to see done-- CATMAN by Newton, PLASTIC MAN by Fantucchio, HUMAN TORCH by Fantucchio, THE VISION by Newton....and the the possibilities are infinite! Thanks for a great service to fandom.

Dear G.B.,
Although I have waited two months to write, I would ~~to~~ like to say that I agree with you completely on what you said in BLASTS FROM THE READERS (RB&CC #62). There are too few comic fans. In fandom today you either have to be a DC fan or a Marvel fan, and I think this is bad. Fandom can never operate to its full extent as long as there are people bickering as to which company is better. All companies (no matter how small) have their good points and bad, but when someone tries to point these out, they usually (notice I said usually) overdo it by making it sould 'real' good or 'real' bad.
Looking thru RB&CC #62, I see ads for "below standard" zines, but I still at least try a couple of issues (unless they are strip zines which I don't care for). Fandom doesn't like to give the 'little man' the chance to prove he can pub a good zine, too. If the issue they buy is bad, they never give a later issue of the same zine a try. Could anyone call the first two or three issues of such zines as THE COLLECTOR, RB&CC, STAR STUDDED COMICS above average? I doubt it. But the people who wanted to see them go places helped, and that help is showing today in the quality of the zines I mentioned. That was at least 2 years ago. A lot of the fen today never give the just-starting zines a chance to prove themselves. And the only way they can is with our help. Fans like Tony Isabella, Dwight Decker, John Fantucchio, etc. are doing their part to bring up the quality of some of the less fortunate zines, but what about the fan who has writing or drawing ability and refuses to use it? These and the one-company fans aren't helping fandom to get any better.

As for comics, we are, like you said, "getting to picky." Sure, there are many comic books that are low quality, but what do we do if wee see one? We write the editor a letter telling him we don't like a certain comic, but offering no constructive criticism whatsoever. We just say we don't like it, and expect them to change the book without the slightest idea of what we want changed. Comics (the people behind them) can put up with just so much destructive criticism and then they don't listen anymore, even when we do have something of value to say.

Maybe fandom isn't as bad as I say, but it's headed in the wrong direction, I'm afraid, and something has to be done to get it back on the right road.

Dear G.B.,

I am writing in regard to what I consider to be one of fandom's biggest problems, that is the immature way we sometimes conduct ourselves. I think for the most part that the young people do handle themselves well, but for a very few that can ruin things for the many.

For example, Jim Gray, in his letter in RB&CC #62, expresses his inclination towards a realistic fine line style of art. What I take exception to is what he says in his first paragraph where he insults one of the pros who has been very kind to fandom in that he's attened and served on various discussion panels at several of the New York Comic Conventions and in general is in accord with much of what fandom wants. This man is a personal friend of mine and is whom I consider to be one of comicdom's finest illustrators, namely Gil Kane.

Of course, Mr. Gray has a perfect right to dislike a certain style but that is no reason to insult the artist personally. A simple "I don't care for his work" would suffice.

On the same subject, I would like to compliment the RB&CC for bringing to fandom a very professional magazine which is truly one of our largest sources of unity. I don't believe we could have come as far as me have without it and I know that you have worked very hard on it for many years.

I was very excited to hear that the GOLDEN AGE will be published regularly now. Fandom has never really had an 'article zine' that has consistently published good material and I'm sure fandom would be making a mistake if they did not support it fully. (EDITOR: Judging from the sales of G.A. #3, fandom could care less for a regular quality article zine.)

Dear G.B.,

I read your editorial in #62's letter-col where you made an extremely valid point about fandom. If most fans would look back several years ago to when fandom was just beginning to stand up, they would see it was not personal correspondence that did it--it was mass communication. Given, there is a tremendous volume of fanzines put out today, but few go beyond issue 5, and fewer, still, make money. So now we're at a point where we can let all the smaller zines go, just because the pages are badly lettered, or we can start buying a few more fanzines (EDITOR: And a few extra comics) to solidify fandom, and perhaps get it growing again. I hope a few will listen to you.

By George Schwartz

This boy, through his hallucinations and preoccupations, was trying to arrive at a successful ego-ideal, which his parents had failed to give him. All of his conflicts over aggression, rejection and lack of security found solution in the comics. He found in them the content he needed, placed in a setting which the ideologies of the present time provide - fifth columnists, the conquest of the air and space by man, etc. They supplied for him in pictorial form the drama of the struggle between the super-ego, ego and the id - a constant conflict between good and primitive 'evil' instincts. Rather than fostering his delinquent drives, the comics acted as a support for his wavering super-ego, since invariably right triumphed. They formed[22] in this case, therefore, a quite inexpensive form of therapy."

5) The View That Comics Cause Delinquency, or Worse

There are a handful of individuals who think comics have a bad effect on their readers. "Pravda, which joins the Wall Street Journal and the New York Times in depriving readers of comics, often comments on political implications flowing through this peculiar American art form. Discussing a passage in 'Buz Sawyer', the newspaper says that the ruling classes of the comics 'try to do with kids that which they do not succeed in doing with half the grown-up population of the United States, namely, to convince them of the necessity[23] and the just character of the aggression in Vietnam'." One 'Buz Sawyer' panel was cited as an example of this attack on comics. The previously mentioned newspapers "forgot" to state that comics dealing with the present situation in Vietnam aren't all one sided. Pravda probably joins the two comic-less papers in an attempt to voice some of her own propaganda.

One of the most outspoken foes of comic books is Frederic Wertham. In his book Seduction of the Innocent, he writes of the relationship between Batman and Robin: "They constantly rescue eachother from violent attacks by an unending number of enemies. The feeling is conveyed that we men must stick together because there are so many villainous creatures who have to be exterminated..... Sometimes Batman ends up in bed injured and young Robin is shown sitting next to him. At home they lead an idyllic life. They are Bruce Wayne and 'Dick' Grayson. Bruce Wayne is described as a 'socialite' and the official relationship is that Dick is Bruce's ward. They live in sumptuous quarters, with beautiful flowers in large vases.... Batman is sometimes shown in a dressing gown.[24] It is like a wish dream of two homosexuals living together."

Wertham goes to great lengths to downgrade the comics. My personal opinion is that Wertham doesn't know what he's talking about. I'd like to use strong language against his "argument", but if I do, part of this paper will be censored. Instead, here is a quote

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON:
THE DOG EXPRESS—In 1866, two Englishmen established what they called a "canine express" between Scarborough and Bruges, Belgium. Four whippets, harnessed to a small railroad car, regularly carried fish over the distance of 10 miles in record time. A dead rabbit was fastened in front of them, and they were not allowed to feed upon it until after their run was completed. For the rapid transportation of mail over the same route, two whippets, harnessed to a lighter car, with a stuffed rabbit dangling before them.
A RECORD IN "BOOKKEEPING"—In 1883 Victor H. Middleton, pharmacist of Grand Rapids, Mich., loaned a book, "Wyatt's Pocket Dose Book," to one of his apprentices. It was not returned until 1932, when the apprentice's son gave it back to Mr. Middleton's son, Louis V., who still operates the drug store in Grand Rapids.

American (a cartoon which he shared, after 1950, with Rube Goldberg), started in the middle 1920s as a sports cartoonist with that same newspaper. Another editorial cartoonist with a national reputation, William Crawford, of the Newark News, was for years a sports cartoonist with that newspaper, and his superior technique with editorial cartoons can probably be attributed to the fact that he learned his craft while in sports.

A Mexican, Pete Llanuza, hooked up with the Telegram in the mid-twenties and many modern sports cartoonists acknowledge a serious debt to him. He was more of a caricaturist than a straight cartoonist, and he knew practically nothing about sports. He made horrendous mistakes; one of them on record is his interpretation of the letters ND in a football cartoon as North Dakota. This was during Knute Rockne's heyday at Notre Dame, when he was probably better known than the Secretary of State. But then Llanuza had style, and he had great drawing ability, and he was original. To a great many young cartoonists, trying to break into journalism, he was a good model to follow.

THE EFFECTS OF COMICS Conclusion:

By George Schwartz

from Jules Feiffer's answer to Wertham. "For the personal reasons previously listed, I'd be delighted to think Wertham right in his conjectures (at least in Robin's case: Batman might have been duped), but conscience dictates otherwise: Batman and Robin were no more or less queer than were their youngish readers, many of whom palled around together, didn't trust girls, played games that had lots of bodily contact, and from similar surface evidence were more or less queer. But this sort of case-building is much too restrictive. In our society it is not only homosexuals who don't like women. Almost no one does. Batman and Robin are merely a legitimate continuation of that misanthropic maleness that runs, invaryingly, through every branch of American entertainment, high or low: literature, movies, comic books, or party jokes. The broad tone of our mass media has always been inbred, narcissistic, reactionary. ...denigrating women because all of the writers were either married or had mothers. Mass entertainment being engineered by men, it was natural that a primary target be women: who were fighting harder for their rights, evening the score, unsettling the traditional balance between the sexes. In a depression they were often able to find work where their men could not. They were clearly the enemy. ... If homosexual fads were certain proof of that which will turn our young queer, then we should long ago have burned not just Batman books,[25] but all Betty Davis, Joan Crawford, and Judy Garland movies."

Another view that helps disprove Wertham states: "In studying the causes of behavior problems of children for many years," wrote Dr. Mandel Sherman, Professor of Educational Psychology at the University of Chicago, "I have never seen one instance of a child whose behavior disturbance originated in the reading of comic books, nor even a case of a delinquent whose behavior was exaggerated by such readings."[26] Marshall B. Clinard adds, "Most of the material (Wertham) presents is based on a few cases, little of it is of a scientific, factual nature, and he does not make any study of the effect of comic books on non-delinquents."[27]

Conclusion

In conclusion, we can state that: 1) Comic books become part of everyday life of some readers; 2) Comic books help get military and wartime propaganda to the mass media; 3) Comic books are useful in education; 4) Comic books affect the racial mood of the readers; 5) Comics can affect politics; 6) Comic books are used by our government to convey its "feelings", (Fig. 26-27) and 7) Comic books are full of fine but unobtrusive detail, the dialogue (this time in balloons) was racy and unstilted. (The girls were also racy, which did not hurt.) Raymond had done it again.

From then until his tragic death in September of 1956, Raymond stayed with Rip Kirby, refining his techniques, boldly defending the thinker as hero, adding to the world of comics one more character who refused to conform to prevailing patterns of violence and anti-intellectualism. Then, like Sidney Smith and Sam Cobean, Raymond died in an automobile accident. Among his colleagues were many who loved him and none who had ever been jealous of him; the shock of his death was felt throughout the profession.

One of the early Flash Gordon pages, 1936, by ALEX RAYMOND. Less light and shadow here, but more action. The combination of narrative and dialogue is characteristic. © King Features Syndicate, Inc.

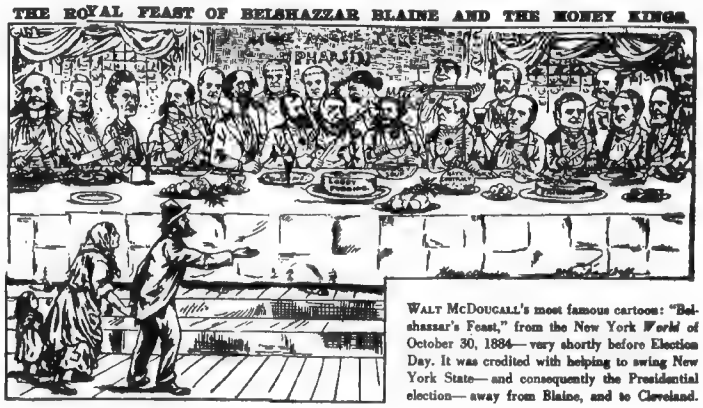
TENNIEL: one of three illustrations to "The Wonderful Whalers," a poem in Punch, volume 21, 1851.

Harold of England and William the Conqueror, culminating in the Battle of Hastings. The tapestry is now thought of as a "work of art," which it has always been; but eight hundred years ago it was, above all, communication.

The cartoon is one kind of pictorial communication. The word "cartoon" was once applied to models and studies for frescoes, mosaics and tapestries; satirical drawings, in those days, were called caricatures or hieroglyphics. In 1843 London saw a great exhibit of "cartoons" for the Houses of Parliament: designs for the walls of Commons and Lords. Punch, the first regular illustrated comic weekly, which had begun publication on July 17, 1841, took a dim view of those designs, and published its own "cartoons" satirizing them. (One of the workhorses of the early Punch was John Tenniel, famous now for his illustrations of Alice in Wonderland.) From then on, a "cartoon" was any single drawing— generally accompanied by a caption (technically a title, above the drawing) or a legend (story; below)— which was self-contained— that is, which transmitted its message without further explanation. Roughly speaking, and allowing for exceptions, the editorial cartoon came first in this country, the sports cartoon next and the humorous cartoon, from which comic strips evolved, last. Editorial cartoons became regular features in American newspapers during the 1890s, though there had been many isolated examples (and thousands of political caricatures) previously. More than any other individual, Walt McDougall fathered the editorial cartoon as a regular feature. His "Belshazzar's Feast," in the New York World during the Presidential campaign of 1884, is credited, even more than the Reverend Samuel D. Bur-



WALT MCDOUGALL'S most famous cartoon: "Belshazzar's Feast," from the New York World of October 30, 1884— very shortly before Election Day. It was credited with helping to swing New York State— and consequently the Presidential election— away from Blaine, and to Cleveland.

In the end Joe Palooka is the great democratic hero. When Little Orphan Annie's "good" friends are in trouble, someone rich and powerful will often help them out of it; when Palooka's "good" friends are in trouble, their very goodness gets them out of it. The compassionate, gen-useful in therapy.

Therefore, comic books do have some effect on their readers. More research is needed, however, as to the effects on collective behavior, per se. It is evident that some comics do affect the daily lives of their readers, as in the Caniff, 'Smiling Jack', 'Blondie', and 'Little Orphan Annie' examples. But more exacting research is needed before a concrete "Know-it-all" conclusion can be reached. This will take years of painstaking research. The Author suggests that such persons as Turner, Clinard and Frank are best qualified to undertake this mission.

The Author hopes that he has stirred "a spark of light" into such research.

THE END OF AN ERA

THIS IS THE ONE ALL OF YOU E.C. FAN-ANTICS HAVE BEEN WAITING FOR

William Parente (professional writer and editor) takes an indepth look at the old E.C. line. He explores and discusses it's faults and weaknesses, but more importantly, he tells why E.C. has never been matched for pure quality. Along with Bill's fine feature-length article, R.B. SPECIAL #7 contains reproductions of E.C. art by Wally Wood, Joe Orlando, Roy Krenkel, Jack Davis, and Al Williamson. Plus a photo of Wally Wood. To top it off, we managed to have pro artist John Fantucchio draw a beautiful 7-color front cover for this issue and believe me, it is in the TRUE EC tradition. And the back cover, also in full color, is by Buddy Saunders, one of fandom's best.

For each copy of THE ROCKET'S BLAST SPECAIL #7 you want, send 75¢ to:

A COMIC FAN SPECIAL ! "PEOPLE, PLACES, AND PERSONALITIES". This is a radio interview shown recently broadcast in Miami. This featured C.C. Beck (creator of CAPTAIN MARVEL) and Wayne DeWald, who co-publishes two fanzines (COMIC COMMENTS and GREMLIN). This recording is a must for any comic fan because virtually every aspect of the comic business and fandom is discussed. Very interesting. The show ran 1 hr., but we eliminated the commercials and the tape runs around 50 minutes. $2.25.

MANY MORE SHOWS AVAILABLE

AVAILABLE AT LONG LAST!!! "THE CINNAMON BEAR RADIO CHRISTMAS SERIAL"

After searching for nearly four years we finally found it. This was a radio serial that started each year about the 1st of December (during the '40s) and was run about 5 or 6 days a week right up to Christmas, in 15 minute chapters. We would have been happy to find just one or two of the shows, but low and behold, we have acquired the complete 26 chapter serial ! For those of you that remember it from your youth, I'm sure you'll want the entire serial, which runs about 6 hrs. [redacted] (no commercials). But to jog your memory a bit, remember: the search for the Silver Star, the crazy-quilt dragon, the Wintergreen Witch, the airplane that ran on soda pop??? The entire serial is available (on 7 inch reels) for only $16.50 (on 5 inch reels, $18.25). I realize that some of you may not want the entire serial, or may not want to buy it all at once. On the other hand, we just do not have time to sell it chapter by chapter. But we will sell it this way, too. You may purchase the first 5 chapters for $4.50. Then later on, if you want the remaining 21 chapters, these may be purchased for $13.50. Good Sound.

70 MAGAZINE

The Magazine of the Future

BACKGROUND: Fifteen years ago, a wish to stand upon another planet was found in only two kinds of people: little kids and the "nuts." In little kids such ideas could be tolerated because kids always had wild ideas like that, and it would, of course, wear off. But in those for whom this idea did not wear off, they could not tolerate such thoughts. Such people were at best ignored, at worst committed. After all, if God meant for man to be on another planet, he would have put him there, wouldn't he?

Within the next few years, several "nuts" are to be standing on Mars.

The 1970's will bring about the end of the term "science-fiction." Man will at last begin his long-sought-after dream of reaching for the stars. And the ones who will be leading the movement will be you "nuts" who enjoy science-fiction as a serious literary field.

Dr. Wertham not withstanding, comics, science-fiction, fantasy, and all reading material falling into those catagories have helped to keep the dream of reaching the stars alive. The dreamers and weirdos who read this "trash" are now being respected for the first time. No longer, in most places, are science-fiction fans jeered. Fandom, that collection of science-fiction, fantasy, comics, astrology, and panelographers, is the mainspring from which this dream has come. Undoubtedly, many of you reading this will stand on Mars in the not-too-distant future.

70 MAGAZINE

To count the innumerable fanzines which Fandom has produced would require more space than this one page has, much less this ad. But, as everyone should know, the quality of these fan magazines run from superb quality to the lowly crudzine. They are mimeoed, dittoed, photo-offsetted, typed, written, loose-leaf, stapled, legal size, oversize, undersize, thin, fat, overpriced, bankrupt .... But each is produced by someone who wants to promote Fandom a little more (many also have the idea of making a little money also, but that's another point.)

Now two people have taken on the task of producing Fandom's Fanzine...70 Magazine. The task is impossible for two people to do alone, which is why this ad is here.

70 Magazine will be the magazine for the coming decade. The Soaring Sixties are almost over and the Seventies are coming up fast. The coming decade holds the most fantastic events in the history of mankind.

70 Magazine has already contacted many fanzine editors and would like to reach all others. 70 Magazine will be written by the top writers, the top dreamers as it were, of Fandom, meaning the Zine editors and their top writers, or the entire project is not worth doing.

Thus this plea goes out for Help! We need writers who can write objectively, and subjectively on the many topics which interest the Fans: science-fiction, fantasy, astrology, and, yes, comics. There will also be a place, although not exactly a major one, for covering the other interests of the young people of fandom. After all, Fandom is made up mostly of the young, or the ones who are still young in their ways of thinking, meaning they have not let their minds stagnate. This is exactly what we need.

MONEY?

No, actually we are not yet after your money. What we are after are writers who can be depended upon to submit articles that are up-to-date, artists who can do spot-illos well and rapidly as well as regular artwork, and, more importantly, a show of hands.

What 70 Magazine needs now is support. We need to know if the fans are interested in a high-quality fanzine covering such a wide variety of topics. We need support, not by money, but by mail right now. If a response is too small, the project could fall through right now.

70 Magazine is such a large project that we will need a large circulation to even make it work.

So would you fans show us by mail if you are interested? (It wouldn't be bad to plague a couple of fanzine editors if you think that the idea is good enough.) We will, of course, come to money later, but we want to see what kind of support 70 Magazine gets before we solidify such details as exact size and subscription rates.

70 Magazine, if you haven't guessed by now, is an attempt to create an all-fandom fanzine; it is an attempt to create a fanzine with interesting articles, intriguing fiction, and news of the many corners of fandom, the latter being reports on fanzines, comic and science-fiction clubs and organizations, and news in general about Fandom, including views about fandom from the writers.

It will come out first in January, and will (hopefully) be published monthly, although it may increase in frequency. The idea of a weekly magazine of such size may be a bit far-out, but not inconceivable. (Remember, don't let your mind stagnate against anything. That's the strength of Fandom.)

HELP!

Yes, definately, we need help! Not financial help, just yet, but help is needed nonetheless. What kind of help do we need? Glad you asked.

- FANS:
We need your help, if you think the idea of 70 Magazine as detailed at left is good. We need to see your support by mail so we can be assured that such an endevor as 70 Magazine is worth the work. And if you think the idea of an all-Fandom magazine is good enough, you might write a few fanzine editors, or talk to your club presidents about it, so they can see if it would be worth their while to support 70 Magazine.

- ARTISTS:
To get into 70 Magazine, submit artwork of any kind to Max Gottfried. Be warned, though, that it will have to meet an extremely high quality of artwork. You must also be able to produce what illustrations we need and the size we need them when we request it.

- WRITERS: Writers we are begging for. But these beggars CAN be choosers. Hopefully we can set up a deal with Fanzine editors so that work can be submitted to them, and they will edit it and send it to us, with the twofold purpose that the articles will be of high quality and varying interests, and that we won't have to do ALL the work.

- FANZINE EDITORS: We now request that you notify us as to your views on 70 Magazine. Most of you have great amounts of your time taken up with your own fanzine(s), and would be unable to actually help in the selection of articles as suggested above. But we would like to see your help in setting up this magazine. 70 Magazine will not be competition, but a help to fanzine editors. In exchange for aid and support for 70 Magazine, fanzine reviews and articles on various fan clubs and zines will appear in great quantity in 70 Magazine. Besides this, news about the world of Fandom will mean you can keep abreast of the moods and tastes of Fandom.

- NOW: JOIN 70 MAGAZINE!! PLEASE WRITE TO EITHER OF THE ADDRESSES BELOW. SHOW YOUR SUPPORT BY MAIL, NOT FUNDS YET! FOR MORE INFORMATION ON 70 MAGAZINE, PLEASE MAIL INQUIRIES TO EITHER DON OR MAX. IF POSSIBLE, PLEASE INCLUDE A STAMPED, SELF-ADDRESSED ENVELOPE, AS 70 MAGAZINE'S MAIL ALONE WILL TAKE UP MUCH OF OUR PRESENTLY FAR-TOO-MEAGRE FUNDS. BUT PLEASE WRITE TO EITHER

THE MAGAZINE OF THE FUTURE!

PLANNED CONTENTS OF THE MAGAZINE OF THE FUTURE:

FICTION

Science-fiction
Fans will have a chance to show off their science-fiction writing prowess, but be warned that we are expecting some Bradbury-quality work, and strictly science-fiction. Very rarely will science-fantasy be printed, although we will have a section for pyre.

Fantasy
Here the imaginative and wild instincts of the writers of Fandom will be allowed free range to let loose their creative instincts, because fine fantasy epics can be created by the talent in Fandom.

Comics
Although these will be a rather limited selection, comics involving science-fiction, fantasy, science, and possibly super-beings, if the quality of script and quality of art are both of quality standards.

NON-FICTION

Science Fact
Articles dealing with the fantastic advances of the space program and the many fields of research into space, the earth, the body, the mind, and other important aspects of science will be both reported and discussed. The pros and cons of such topics as the space program, E.S.P., and other topics of interest to fans will be discussed at length by top people of Fandom

Science-fiction
Discussions of recent science-fiction, the authors and the works will be written as well as reports on science-fiction books, magazines, movies, and such material, especially as it relates to what is happening in the space program and other fields of research.

Comics
Comics, also, will be discussed, because of the wide-spread popularity of this form of literature and Fandom's attempts to raise the quality of this communications form. We will avoid the all-too-common Marvel-D.C. debates, as well as other inferior-quality discussions of comics, and will, of course, keep this portion of 70 Magazine on a level with the rest.

Reprints
Occasionally, we may reprint (with permission, of course) articles from other fanzines, both for their enrichment of the reader and for a bit of free advertising for fanzines.

SUBSCRIPTION ADVERTISING

What is subscription advertising? Why it's the best thing that ever happenned for your fanzine. It means that you can have a two page advertisement in each and every issue of our monthly "all-fanzine" adzine for the low price of $20.00 per year. This is all the advertising you need do, as we guarantee surprising results. All you have to do is on the first of each month send us 500 ready sheets printed on both sides, and we will incorporate it in our publication Comic Scene. If you are unable to print the ready sheets, we will do it for only $2.50 extra.

Besides the advertising, you also get for your $20.00 a subscription to the Fanzine Editors Newsletter, with news, tips on fanzines, and other helpful items. This 10 page monthly bulletin is a must for all fanzine publishers.

If you are unable to pay the $20.00 all at once, you may pay in monthly installments of $2.00.

Just think of all the money you will be saving on advertising. Remember, you get two pages of advertisements for only $4.00 to $5.00. The same ads in the Rocket's Blast-Comicollector would cost you $28.00 per mo. That's a saving of approximately 85%!!! You can't go wrong with our subscription advertising.

Send all checks to FANPUBS, Subscription Advertising Department, 244 New York Avenue, Jersey City, New Jersey 07307.

TRADE GOLDEN AGE FOR E. C. TRADE GOLDEN AGE FOR E. C.

Yes, I am disposing of part of my Golden Age comic book collection to concentrate on William Gaines and Company. I am interested in pre-Trend, as well as all the other science fiction, horror, humor, and war titles including the New Direction line. My special wants are the following issues needed to complete my Ray Bradbury anthology: WS 19, 22; WF 13, 17, 18, 19 ; WSF 23, 25 CSS 17, SSS 7, TFTC 36 and VOH 29, 31.

So here are the comics which I have to trade. They are in good or better condition with a few having very minor flaws such as restapled covers, pencil marks etc. Try to keep your offers at least reasonably proportional to the relative prices asked by dealers and in other Rocket's Blast*Comic Collector ads.

Fandom has long been suffering from the lack of a regular fannish newsletter and the subsequent lack of cheap and fast communication for too long. Fanzine editors now pay high prices to adzines that can't be frequent to get news to their readers and fanzine readers must search high and low for this dated information. CriFanAc will carry, each month, all news on fan publications and activities absolutely free. The cost to subscribers is 15¢ or 7/$1. Send all news and money immediately to Doug Fratz. We need support.

Because of costs, Potpourri #1 has undergone a change in size and price, and is now only 25¢ and will be the size of Co. However, because this is still a large scale thing and secondary to Co, I must get enough orders before I publish. Pp#1 will be wrap-around offset and have a beautiful cover by VAUGHN BODE, as well as inside work by top sf pro JACK GAUGHAN (right) as well as columns on science fiction, ERB, rock music, comics, horror, and much more; a little bit of everything as the title suggests. We now have an interview with Isaac Asimov, also.
Best send for this now, as I'm just mean enough to raise the price later!

SUPER HEROES - EVERYONES FALL GUYS

Isn't it unusual that the guys who wear bright colored costumes and perform spectacular feats are the ones that everyone blames for everything from child syndromes to crime on the streets ! As long as I can remember, the ultimate cause for prolonged idiosyncrasies of the young, and unaccepted social behavior of the teen-aged has been traced to the comics. The current "schtick" is the Werthamistic cry that Saturday's cartoons involving super heroes are responsible for youngster's overexposure to all sorts of evil-doings. This, the experts (who probably never read Harold Teen or Crazy Kat when they were younger) claim will effect their minds in some undesirable way. How come a professor teaching in Michigan, an accountant in Milwaukee, a TV series star, and others have reached a high calibre of success in their professional fields without being effected adversly by their hobby - collecting comics ? Bunk I say ! And bunk says any reader of this publication ! It's the changing of our times - social, economic and cultural that create problems for all age levels. Funny how easily the plus factors are forgotten. Let's forget about World War II and before. Let's concentrate on today, and counteract all the blurb we've read about in TV Guide, the radio and television sections of our newspapers, and the so called opinion shows a' la Susskind, Burke, Grey, etc.

Anyone reading the letters to the editor pages of the Marvel Comics Group will note that there is a goodly percentage of contributions from college students. If for nothing else, Stan Lee's influence tells us that not all who go to places of higher education where long hair and use of university facilities to expound rebellionous ideas have made headlines, are members of this group. They must be spending some of their spare time reading about Spidey and Namor, instead of attending protest demonstrations. Their letters are intelligent and reflect good common sense.

The Mark Rudd's read way out stuff like EVO, whose only illustrated matter are obscene pictures and insulting caricatures of decent people. Next example : how come children would rather wear a Captain America or Sue Storm Holloween costume than be a witch, monster vampire or the like ? Which do you think is the more evil of the two in terms of nightmarish fodder ? Have you ever met an editor who can claim that his comic characters have fostered the cause of evil ? In the long run, be it three of four issues, a super hero overcomes all to win for truth and justice. Doesn't this line of reasoning deliver some message ? In the history of these United States, has not this country, after loss of many lives and a disruption of normal living caused by wars, always come out on the winning side. Comics are merely following the same pattern as we live it. To say otherwise is to say that we have turned the heads of each generation, blinded them from what actually occurs, and thusly put them in an atmosphere of virgin vacuum. And what about the quality of today's comic books. Isn't the art better ? Do not the writers study texts, make inquiries from qualified sources, and insist on as much basic authenticity as possible when creating plots ? And did not DC not so many years ago allot several pages of each issue of such titles as Mystery In Space (Adam Strange I miss you !), and Metal Men to educating readers with interesting secrets of science, astronomy, history, etc. ? These were so well illustrated and written that many professional and trade publications applauded these efforts in their tomes. Did you ever see an advertisement in a comic book suggesting you send for obscene material, un-american propaganda, or health effecting merchandise ? The Sunday magazine of the New York Times has more ads for womens undergarments (with accompanying pictures); True magazine has more sex suggesting cartoons; movie magazines more ads for indecent clothes than any comic magazine would ever dream of having. The comics industry righted itself by creating the CCA. How effective has the movie industry been to date to uphold the edicts of the Hayes Office ?

Come to think about it, there's more good family life in an Archie comic than most episodes of My Three Sons. Comics sell for (in most cases) 12¢. You can go to a book store and purchase smut for $5.00. You can buy a weapon thru the mails for a little more or a little less. Now tell me Dr. Wertham, tell me Good Housekeeping, tell me you people at Radnor, Pa.....which is the better buy ? Which is the more antisceptic ?

Super heroes have been around since Buck Rogers. Why wait until today to tell us that they are a bad influence on TV screens. When I was a kid I saw Captain Marvel and Flash Gordon in movie serials. I came out of the theater clean and healthy. Nobody wrote articles in the paper condemning the Lone Ranger or the Phantom or Tarzan or Jungle Jim. Why now ? Why not then ? How come the heavies in Aesop's Fables or Grimms Fairy Tales are not accused or admonished ? Some day in the future, there may be super-heroes who can fly, bend steel girders, become invisible. Will they laugh, like we laughed at those who said that if God wanted us to fly he would have given us wings. The Wright's took care of that, and I think we'll take care of our critics too !

HOWARD P. SIEGEL

A WORD FROM THE EDITOR:

AS I WRITE THIS PLANS ARE ALREADY UNDERWAY FOR THE FIFTH ISSUE OF "THE GOLDEN AGE". TRUE TO OUR WORD, WE ARE MAKING A GENUINE EFFORT TO PUBLISH A QUALITY ARTICLE ZINE (G.A.) ON A REGULAR BASIS & HAVE JUST COME OUT WITH #4. I WILL NOT GO INTO DETAIL ABOUT THE CONTENTS OF THE FOURTH ISSUE AS THEY ARE FULLY DESCIBED IN OUR AD. I WOULD LIKE TO MENTION THAT IT IS 4 PAGES LONGER & 25¢ LESS THEN THE LAST ISSUE. I CANNOT HONESTLY SAY THAT I WAS TRYING TO GIVE YOU MORE FOR YOUR MONEY THIS TIME, THE ECONOMICS OF IT JUST TURNED OUT THAT WAY.

I MENTIONED IN "THE GOLDEN AGE" #3 THAT IN ORDER TO PUBLISH IT ON A REGULAR SCHEDULE THAT WE MUST SELL A CERTAIN NUMBER OF COPIES PER ISSUE. THIS IS STILL TRUE, OF COURSE, BUT WE ALSO NEED A STEADY SUPPLY OF "QUALITY" ARTICLES AND FEATURES. THERE ARE A LOT OF YOU WHO ARE CAPABLE OF SUCH HIGH STANDARDS (TOM FAGAN, JIM JONES, HOWARD SIEGEL, ETC) AND WE MUST HAVE YOUR CONTRIBUTIONS TO CONTINUE. [redacted] N

How's Your Comics IQ?

The Real Fans Will Score Way Up There; To Them Characters Are Alive

AMONG the most loyal and dedicated readers of any newspaper are the comics fans.

To them, the characters are alive and the situations real. And they have long, long memories.

They remember villains and heroes and even minor characters years after the cartoonist himself may have forgotten them.

How true a fan of the comics are you? See how many of the following questions you can answer. Some of them are easy, some a little more difficult and some, let's face it, practically impossible except for the most avid reader of comics.

Score yourself one point for each correct answer. If you get 25 points, you must have an insatiable memory for comics. Twenty points makes you an expert, even 15 ain't bad. Ten or less and you ought to read more comics. They're fun.

Correct answers appear on Page 7.

"THE GREATNESS OF E.C." From WEIRD SCIENCE FANTASY #25. Art by Al Williamson. From the G.B. Love EC Collection.

STARTING IN THE NEXT RB&CC !! A series of articles on the E.C. Comic Group by the editor & publisher of SPA FON, Rich Hauser.

AND, if you're an E.C. collector, don't miss THE GOLDEN AGE #4 !!!

IT CAME ON GREAT, OILED, RESILIENT, STRIDING LEGS. IT TOWERED TWENTY FEET ABOVE TREES, A HUGE EVIL GOD, FOLDING ITS DELICATE WATCHMAKER'S CLAWS TO ITS OILY, REPTILIAN CHEST. EACH LOWER LEG WAS A PISTON, A THOUSAND POUNDS OF WHITE BONE SUNK IN THICK ROPES OF MUSCLE, SHEATHED OVER IN A GLEAM OF PEBBLED SKIN. EACH THIGH WAS A TON OF MEAT, IVORY AND STEEL MESH. AND FROM THE UPPER BODY THOSE TWO DELICATE ARMS DANGLED, ARMS WITH HANDS THAT MIGHT PICK UP AND EXAMINE MEN LIKE TOYS...
MY GOD! IT COULD REACH UP AND GRAB THE MOON!
SH! IT HASN'T SEEN US YET
THE HEAD, A TON OF SCULPTURED STONE, LIFTED EASILY UPON THE SKY. ITS MOUTH GAPED, EXPOSING A FENCE OF TEETH LIKE DAGGERS. ITS EYES ROLLED, EMPTY OF ALL EXPRESSION SAVE HUNGER. IT RAN, ITS PELVIC BONES CRUSHING ASIDE TREES, ITS TALONED FEET CLAWING DAMP EARTH WITH A GLIDING BALLET STEP FAR TOO POISED AND BALANCED FOR ITS TEN TONS...
IT CAN'T BE KILLED WE WERE FOOLS TO COME! THIS IS IMPOSSIBLE!
SHUT UP, ECKLES!
THE TYRANNOSAURUS RAISED ITSELF, ITS ARMORED FLESH CRUSTED WITH SLIME. AND IN THE SLIME, TINY INSECTS WRIGGLED, SO THAT THE ENTIRE BODY SEEMED TO TWITCH AND UNDULATE. IT EXHALED AND A STINK OF RAW FLESH BLEW DOWN THE WILDERNESS...
DIDN'T REALIZE IT WOULD BE THIS BIG! MISCALCULATED! NOW, I WANT OUT! GET ME OUT!
TURN AROUND! WALK BACK TO THE MACHINE! DON'T RUN
ECKLES MADE A SERIES OF GRUNTING SOUNDS, AS IF HE'D BEEN HIT, VERY HARD, IN THE STOMACH. HE STARTED OUT.. TOOK A FEW STEPS... BLINKING... SHUFFLING...
NOT THAT WAY!
THE MONSTER, AT THE FIRST MOTION, STARTED FORWARD WITH A TERRIBLE SCREAM. THE RIFLES JERKED UP AND BLAZED. A WINDSTORM FROM THE BEAST'S MOUTH ENGULFED THEM IN A STENCH OF SLIME AND OLD BLOOD...
ECKLES STUMBLED BLINDLY TO THE EDGE OF THE PATH, HIS GUN LIMP IN HIS ARMS, AND STEPPED OFF...
HIS FEET SANK INTO GREEN MOSS

Welcome back fans to another round of Questions and Answers. In a letter from Howard Waldrop we find out that the words "Etoain Shrdlu" goes further back than the forties. It was originally in newspapers in the 1910's and 20's, usually found in the poet's corner or whatever the papers called their space for local Byrons.

Etoain Shrdlu is (are) the first 12 keys on a linotype machine, on the keyboard. The linotype is very different from a typewriter, both in letter arrangement and placement; it is arranged in 6 rows of keys with 10 or 11 tabs in a row; all caps are on one side, (the machines right) the punctuation marks and numerals are in the center of the keyboard, and all the small letters are on the left of the keyboard. So Etoain Shrdlu is what you get by running your finger down the first two rows of the keyboard on a linotype.

Things were signed Etaoin Shrdlu, usually, as I said in the poet's corner, when the linotype operator had to fill a space, or write a poem or whatever, without copy to go from. Etoain Shrdlu denoted to anyone who worked in printing, publishing etc that the operator himself had filled the space or written the poem.

Earliest things in print signed Etoain Shrdlu I've seen are from 1918 but it is probably as old as the linotype itself. These letters are usually punched out by the operator before getting down to typing as these are all the vowels, which he must make sure are falling before he begins typing. Hope I've been of help?(You sure have,Howard.)

Also thanks go to R.Stanich concerning the above.

And now to the fairer sex...These questions come from Miss Lana Zukowski;

(1).Did the Flash Gordon newspaper strip continue after Alex Raymond left it? If so, who succeeded him, and did the character remain the same?
It sure did continue Lana. Alex Raymond's last Sunday was dated April 30,1944 and the following Sunday, May 7,1944,saw the strip taken over by Austin Briggs. Raymond hadn't even finished the current story. Briggs remained on the strip thru 1948 and then Mac Raboy took over and did them till his death last year. Dan Barry could be the current artist. Character has remained much the same.

(2).Who was the first super hero to marry?
To my knowledge no Golden Age hero ever married. When Hawkman and Hawkgirl were revived in 1961 they were married so guess that would make them the first married super heroes. However I'd say Reed Richards and Sue Storm were the first to have a wedding in a comic book.

(3).Who was the first super hero to have children?
Again I'd have to say Reed and Sue. But if you want to get down to the finer points the super hero who was first married and had a son would be The Phantom.

(4).Was the Spectre the first "dead" super hero?
Yes he was.

(5).Has Hal Foster worked on any other strips besides Tarzan and Prince Valiant? Is the latter still appearing.

As far as I know those were his only strips and yes Prince Valiant is still appearing.

(6).When an artist works for a comics company, does he sign a contract forbidding him to work for any other company or is he permitted to free-lance?
Well I'd say some artists do sign a contract and are commited to work for that publisher only but many of todays artist are free lance and work for who they please but most stick to the publisher they signed to work for.

Mike Squires would like to know who the Seven Soldiers of Victory were in Leading Comics?

Well Mike that is an easy one to answer. The Seven Soldiers of Victory, or the Laws Legionaires as they would also called, were Green Arrow and Speedy, The Viglante, The Shining Knight, The Crimson Avenger, and The Star Spangled Kid and Stripsey. Wing, The Crimson Avenger's partner, was the unofficially "eighth" Soldier.

Both Tom Nord and Jerry Sinkover have asked for the dates of Strange Tales #1 and Journey into Mystery #1.
Strange Tales #1 was dated Dec. 1951 and J.I.M. was dated June 1952.

Tom Nord also wants the first and last dates of these Atlas/Marvel titles....

The above two..First title had 43 and 44 as Vol 1 #1 and 2 and then vol 2 #3 etc. The latter was the same except it ran 4 issues then Vol 2 #5.

Sean Hainedy has these questions:

1.Why is Prince Valiant Feature Book #26 so rare?
Because this was the only Hal Foster P.V Comic and rates equal with the Flash Gordon 4 Color #10 and Tarzan Single Series #20.

2.How many books and their titles and numbers did Stuntman appear in and were they all by Simon and Kirby?
Besides Stuntman #1 and 2, Stuntman also appeared in Thrills of Tomorrow 19 and 20 which were reprints of Stuntman 1 and 2.He was also in Green Hornet #39, Black Cat #9 and All New #13. All stories were by S & K.

Jay Barder askes; "I recently bought three comics published under the company name of Super Comics. These were published in 1964 and I would like to know how many titles were published by this company and how many issues each ran. Are these the same as I.W. reprints?"

First of all Jay, yes these are the same as I.W. Just how many titles there were I can't say, but there were no runs of any title and some were numbered 10, 11 ect with no 1-9 ever existing. Here are a few of the titles....Avenger #9 (I.W.),Buccaners #12,Dynamic Comics #1,Dollman 11,15,17, Dr.Fu Manchu #1, Dynamic Adventures #8, Danger 12,15,16,17, Eerie 1,8,Great Action 8,9,Human Fly 1,10,Jet Power #1, Jungle Adventures 12,15,18, Kaanga #1, Man O' Mars #1, Planet 1,8, Plastic Man 11,16,18, Sheena #9, Space Detective 1,8. The above are a mixture of both Super and I.W. and there were many, many more.

Jeff Anderson wants to know what dates did Wally Wood draw the Spirit. Also how much did he draw for Avon's Strange Worlds #5?

Wally Wood did The Spirit from around July 20 or the next Sunday thru at least Aug. 19, 1952 so Wally did at least three of them. Also I might add that these were called "Outer Space" featuring Denny Cole and not called The Spirit. On your second question. I don't have Strange Worlds #5 but if it is the same as the I.W. reprint #5 then there was no Wood art in it.

Anthony Albensi wants as much information as possible on Doc Savage.

1.On the comic book.

There were 20 issues of Doc Savage Comics. #1 was May 1940 and #20 was Oct.1943.Each issue contained one Doc Savage story which was 16 to 20 pages in length. There were 2 volumes with 12 issues in vol. one and 8 issues in vol. 2. Doc faught the Skull for the first time in #10. Besides Doc, the comics that also appeared in the book were Ajax the Sun Man in #2 thru vol.2 #5, Huckleberry Finn vol. 2 #6,7,8 as well as Nick Carter, Danny Garrett, Gobs O' Fun ect in various other issues.

2.Who is the artist who does the Doc Savage paperback covers?
Anyone out there who can help me on this?

3.Ditto...can anyone tell me anything about the Savage movie and TV series, if any?

4.Also need info on the comics John Carter appeared in and the artists who did the strip. I beleive John Colaman Burroughs did the early Carter stories including the BLB #1402. Jesse Marsh did the later Dell issues and GK reprints. Maybe readers will be able to add to this.

5. Need Data on the Buck Rogers movies?
Well Anthony, there were or was, only one Rogers movie and it was the 1939 Universal serial starring Buster Crabbe, Jackie Moran and Constance Moore. It ran for 12 chapters.

Bob Giles has a few questions...

1.What issues of Startling Comics did Ace Buckley appear in.
He was in Startling #3 thru 10.

2.In what book did Kenton of the Star Patrol, by Wood, appear in?
Strange Worlds #4 by Avon was one. Anyothers fans?

3.Where did Woods Space Detective appear?
In Avon's Space Detective #1.

Continuing with Bob Giles questions.

4.When did Al Williamson draw Space Ace for JET?
I beleive this would be in the third issue of this ME title.

5.What would the issue number of Forbidden Worlds for March-April 1950 be?
Since you are after Williamson and Frazetta art, I'd say that it was #1 as it had a story by them.

Last issue the question about Blackhawk #118 being done by Frazetta has been cleared up by Dee Magers and Canal Zone fan Jim Gray. Fritz only did a three page filler in that issue called "Town Jesse James Couldn't Rob." It was in his well known style. None of the Blackhawk art was done by him. Jim also addes: Fritz also did a 3 page filler in Tomahawk #57.

More thanks go out to Scott Campbell and all others who helped on the Etoain Shrdlu question.

And a few questions asked by Robert Millikin.

1.What issues featured Janu with Congo Bill?
Janu was introduced in Action #191 and was still around as late as #256 and possibly thru 261.

2.What was the origin of Sandy the Golden Boy and why did the Sandman change from a Green Hornet style to a Batman style?
I don't know Sandy's origin,if any,but he was introduced in Adventure #69. D.C. wanted a more updated character and this was the reason for the costume change. Simon and Kirby took over the strip with issue #72.

3.Was there a grown-up version of Mars Man? ever in Action or Superman Comics? Does anyone care to help on this?

4.In what issues of Planet Comics did Reef Ryan and Hunt Bowman first appear?
Well Bob here is a run down on both....
Reef Ryan: Planet 13 July 1941. Teamed up with Flint Baker to become Space Rangers #26 Sept.1943.Drawn by Lebieck 13-16, Rey Isip 17,19-22, Rubimore 18, George Tuska 23-24 and Lee Elias 25.
Hunt Bowman: Lost World started in issue #21 Nov. 1942 and was last in #70 skipping #69. I believe #64 was the last original story, the remaining stories being reprints. Art wise it shapes up as...Rudy Palais 21, Nick Viscardi 22, Rey Isip 23, Graham Ingels 24-31, Lily Renee 32-49 and George Evans 50-64.

5.How about some information on the 8th Blackhawk Zeg?
I don't know to much but do know he was introduced along with the rest of Blackhawks band in Military #2 and was quickly and quietly dropped as was Boris, another member.

Scott Bailey wants to know in what issue of MAD did Alfred E. Neuman first appear? Well fans, I need your help on this one.

Scott also wants to know:

1.What was the full name of the artist who drew for EC and signed his name "Ghastly"?
This was Graham Ingels who did Lost World in Planet in 1944.

2.Did Ingels draw every cover of Haunt of Fear?
No, early issues had covers by both Al Feldstein and Johnny Craig.

Scott Campbell wants some information on Ben Friday, Steve Roper and Dickie Dare.

All three were newspaper comic strip characters and Steve Roper is still appearing in the funny paper. Ben Friday was reprinted in later issues of Famous Funnies and this is about about all I can tell you about him. Both Steve Roper and Dickie Dare were featured in F.F. also. Dickie was a boy who shared adventures with his friend Dan Flynn. The artist was Coulton Waugh and before him Milton Caniff. Steve Roper started out as Big Chief Wahoo by Saunders and Woggon. Steve became Wahoo's friend around 1940-41 and later the strip was taken over by Roper and today Roper is slowly being replaced by Mike Nomad.

Charles Roberts askes;

1.How many issues of Funnyman were there by Siegel and Shuster?

First of all did you know that their Funnyman also appeared in the funnypages of many newspapers? There were at least 6 books and these appeared in 1948. He also appeared in a 25¢ giant called Extra Comics.

2.What other comics did they do together after they stopped Superman?

As far as I know, only Funnyman.

3.Did Joe Shuster do any artwork for other stories after 1947?

Not that I know of.

4.I have a comic titled "Three Comics Magazine" #1- 10¢. The cover has a tiger head in the center and shows a lot of people running away. The colors are red and white only. The back cover says "Keep him flying, buy more and more war stamps" and shows an eagle. The back cover is red and white also. The inside front and back covers are blank. The only copyright date is 1944 by Everett M.Arnold. The comic contains 3 comics. Each one of the three has the Spirit (not signed by Eisner), Lady Luck by Nordling and Mr. Mystic by Fred Guardineer. Each comic book is 16 pages long. Did Eisner draw this one and is it scarce?

Well Charles this is a new one to me but it looks like a book that was but together to push war stamps. Those 3 books are the Spirit newspaper supplements and each originally came out between Oct. 10, 1943 and May 14, 1944 which were the issues Guardineer did Mr.Mystic. The Spirit art would be by Lou Fine and I'd say that your "Three Comics Magazine" would be rare.

Jim Smith has three questions, but first he would like to try and answer Joe Cannizzaro's question on the Marvel red unit and blue-yellow unit. 'In Marvel Mystery #91 and several other Marvels of that era, a notice would freguently appear reassuring parents of the harmless value of Marvel Comics. At the bottom of this notice they would list their comics in two groups, the Red Unit and the Blue-Yellow Unit. Under the Red Unit there were such titles as Blonde Phantom, Capt.America, Marvel Mystery,Sub-Mariner etc. Under the Blue-Yellow Unit would be listed Junior Miss and all their teen age and humor Comics.' THANkS JIM and I hope more people will help on these unanswered questions. Now lets see what we can do about the three you asked.

1.What comic did Baron Gestapo, Steel Sterlings foe, first appear?

As far as I know, Baron Gestapo first appeared in Zip #27 which also contained the very first WEB story.

2.What issues of Master Comics contained Mac Raboy art on Capt. Marvel Jr. and Bulletman?

Raboy did Bulletman in Master #21 and 22. Jr was introduced into the pages of Master in the Bulletman story in #22. (Jr.'s orgin was in Whiz #25.) Jr.'s first solo story was in #23 and Raboy did all stories till at least #45 and maybe thru 47.

3.And last...What stories appeared in Young Allies #1 thru 6?

In my book, Young Allies #4 is one of the best books of the Golden Age but no fan can go wrong with any of the first eight issues which are all top-notch and all are 68 pagers.

Here are some questions asked by Grey Robertson.

1. Who drew the Robin stories in Star Spangled Comics?
   Bob Kane did a few in 1948 but most for 1947-49 were done by Winslow Mortimer.
2. Can you list all previous groups from which Marvel deacended?
   In order they were Timely, Marvel, Atlas and Marvel.
3. Who wrote and drew Fighting Yank?
   Most, if not all stories were written by Richard Hughes. Art on the first story was by Jon Blummer. Most stories of 1942 were drawn by Jack Binder. Other then those two I don't know. Can anyone help?
4. Did Will Eisner ever draw Blackhawk?
   No he never drew him.

King Akers wants to know:

1. What are the chances Ditko can revive Blue Beetle and The Question?
   As of now, no chance. Charlton seems to be against costume guys.
2. Is there/will there be a second issue of "His Name is Savage"?
   The last I heard, "Savage" was a dead issue.
3. What's in the future for Deadman, The Creeper and Dolphin?
   The Creeper is dead. Dolphin likely is and Deadman gets a whole new series starting in the second issue of a comics called From Beyond.
4. Is it coincidence that Blackhawk vanished just after Pat Boyette introduced a brother we had never heard of before?
   No I don't think so. National was going to drop them anyway. There has been talk that they would like to revive them once again.
5. Will Capt. Comet be reprinted, as Adam Strange is?
   I have my doubts.

Barry Gardner has a few questions pertaining to artists. But first he wants to help Ted Seider (last issue) on his question "Who drew the Human Torch in Young Men #24. This was Russ Heath. Now Barry wants to know what became of Russ Heath and Al Hartley and why did Bill Everett quit Marvel. Also when was the original Hulk Comic published? Can anyone help on Hartley and Everett? Russ Heath is still doing comics and has been doing war stories for DC and will take over as the permanent artist of Sgt. Rock with Our Army At War #208. The original Hulk Comic was published in 1962 and 63.

Well fans this is about it for this issue and please look for my add elsewhere in this issue for some average condition comics.

Send your question and two 6¢ stamps to Raymond L. Miller RD #1 Box 131-C Creekside Penna. 15732. Limit.. 6 questions per letter and no more then one letter each issue. Send any answers and corrections to same address. Watch next issue for more Oddities.

Also thanks go out to Joe Matvay for his help on the Marvel Red Unit and Blue and yellow Unit question.

A RB*CC INFORMATION CENTER .....E..X..T..R..A

Questions have been coming in pretty fast of late, too many to hold over till next issue.

From Rob Mauch comes these questions....

1. Did Spiderman appear on the cover of Amazing Fantasy #15?
   He sure did.
2. In what comic during the 50's did Jimmy Woo and The Yellow Claw appear?
   They appeared in Yellow Claw Comics.
3. What is the earliest case that you know of Amnesia being used in a comic book plot?
   You know how to hurt a guy. I've only 700 comics to look through. How about in Batman #16 April-May 1943 when the Joker gets amnesia, for a starter?
4. In Tales of Suspense #39, the second story called "The Last Rocket" looks like Gene Colan's art. Was it?
   I agree that it does look like it but does anyone know for sure?

Here are three questions from J.Andriano.

1. What is the story behind the 3 or 4 issues of Charlton's "Tarzan" series?
   There were 4 issues and a planned fifth issue, which never came out. These were unauthorized and they were forced to drop the title.
2. Who was the artist on these books?
   The artist was Sam Glanzman in 1-3 and Montes and Bache in #4.
3. Marvel's "Ghost Rider" was not created by Stan Lee, because it was published in its own magazine before that. True or False?
   True. The original Ghost Rider by Dick Ayers got its start in Tim Holt Comics and graduated to his own book in the 50's. Ghost Rider Comics by ME was one of the best of the 50's.

Paul Tiburzi has the following questions he would like answered.

1. In 1944 a number of Timely's carried an ad for a magazine called Miss America, which was to have comics, stories, movies etc. Can you give me some info on this book?
   Well Paul I don't know just how long this book ran but I'd guess near or into the fifties. The first two issues were full fledge comic books starring Miss America from Marvel Mystery. #4 and #3 contained a little of everything from teen to movie news on regular magazine paper with two Miss America comic stories (in Color) in the center. After #4 and on it was a Calling All Girls type magazine. Price was a dime and if this is the wrong dope on #4 someone will tell me.
2. Was the book called One-Million Years Ago actually Tor #1?
   I would say yes...Does anyone know if there were two issues of Tor 3D numbered #2?
3. I underatand that Capt.America #75 was called Weird Tales or something like that. What about it?
   #74 was called Capt.America's Weird Tales and contained one CA story (vs Red Skull) and 2 horror stories. #75 contained three horror stories and no Cap at all.

Jim Holdridge askes this question.....Tell me which Golden Age Daredevil Comic had the story "DD and the Phantom Of Notre Dame"? I know it's either 9,10 or 11.
Well Jim, it must be #11 because I have 9 and 10 & it isn't in either of them.

Gerard C. Mooney has one question. Was there ever a Strange Tales Annual #1 published? The annual published in '63 co-featured the Torch and Spidey (#2) and I have never seen or heard of a number 2.

Jim Stenstrum has the answer. There definitely was a Strange Tales #1 annual. I have it myself. It is 1962 and contained 13 reprinted monster stories--not Human Torch. The annual came out before H.T.'s first appearance in Strange Tales.

Gerard also wants to answer Leo Keil's question about the Subby art in Astonish #96. The reason for that Roth art is simply that Everett had made a mistake (exactly what, I don't know) and Lee asked Roth to do that page over, because Roth happened to be available. Incidentally, in case anyone's interested, Roth was fired recently by Marvel because his work pace was too slow for Marvel's stepped up production rate.

And two more from Grey Robertson.

1. In what comics did Space Ranger appear?
2. What was the first A.C.G. comic?

Again Jim Stenstrum to the rescue. Space Ranger first appeared in Showcase #15 and 16 (Aug and Oct 1958). After a year or so he returned with a strip of his own in either Tales of the Unexpected #40,41 or 42. He was in all issues until #82. The next month he was to be found in Mystery in Space #92 and he lasted till #101 Aug 1965. The earliest A.C.G is hard to say. I would say either HA HA or GIGGLE was their first. HA HA #1 goes back to 1943. I don't know just how far back GIGGLE goes. Of course it is possible A.C.G went by another name, or a different company might have published GIGGLE and HA HA. Again, possible but not probable.

Duffy Vohland has a lot of questions.

1. When Did Mad Comic become Mad Magazine?
   #24 was the first Magazine.
2. When did Ka-Zar come on the scene and what book did he appear in?
   Ka-Zar in comic strip form originaly appeared in Marvel Mystery #1 thru 27.
3. How many different comics titles has DC published to date?
   That's hard to answer and I bet DC couldn't answer that one.
4. What super/adventure heroes appeared in strips in the 50's other then Superman, Batman, Wonder Woman and Blackhawk?
   Well omitting any of the present heroes who started in the 50's and are still around we would find Capt.America, Human Torch, Sub-Mariner, The Fly, Shield (Pvt.Strong), Black Corba, Flame, Capt. Flash, Fighting American, Green Arrow, Capt. Marvel, Capt.Marvel Jr and Mary Marvel to name a few.
5. What features were in Showcase 1-35 and Brave and the Bold 24-35?
   Showcase: 1. Fire Fighters..2. King of the Wild..3. Frogman.. 4,8,13. Flash..5. Manhunter..6,7,11,12. Challengers of the Unknown..9,10. Lois Lane..14. Flash..15,16. Space Ranger..17-19 Adam Strange..20,21. Rip Hunter, Time Master..22-24. Green Lantern..25,26 Rip Hunter. 27-29. Sea Devils..30-33. Aquaman..34-36. Atom.
   Brave & Bold: 24. Viking Prince..25-27. Suicide Squad..28-3o Justice League of America..31-33. Cave Carson..34-36 Hawkman.

CAPTAIN GEORGE'S COMIC WORLD

A WHIZZBANG PUBLICATION

GEORGE HENDERSON, MEMORY LANE PUBLICATIONS, 594 MARKHAM STREET, TORONTO, ONTARIO, CANADA

AN OPEN LETTER TO RBCC READERS

Dear Friends:-

Captain George's Comic World has published it's 10th issue. For those who may not know just what is going on, here is a list of what a subscriber will receive for his $3.00 investment:-

1. Sunday pages from the early 1900s - Buster Brown etc.
2. Sunday pages from the early 1900s - Yellow Kid etc.
3. The Magic of Winsor McCay - Little Nemo in Slumberland, etc.
4. Krazy Kat - 30 Sunday pages.
5. Special "How to Draw" issue - Prince Valiant etc.
6. Alex Raymond - Flash Gordon and the Water World of Mongo.
7. Superman - 86 daily strips from 1939 and 1940.
8. Special "Primary Source" issue - Noel J. Paton, R.S.A. - 1863.
9. Hal Foster's Tarzan (Issue unnumbered).
10. Mutt and Jeff - 1917 (Issue unnumbered).

As can be seen, we've covered quite a bit of territory. We made some mistakes (issue #1 is less than wonderful and Krazy Kat is slightly strange in format), but much of what we've done is "just right." If you're already a subscriber, take a look at issue #7 (Superman special). This is what all future issues will look like. We'll still switch size to fit the material (not screw up the material to fit the size) but we've now instituted a "house look" so that all Whizzbang Publications may be instantly recognizable. (We also publish The New Captain George's Whizzbang - 5 issues $3.00 ; Captain George's Penny Dreadful - A Weekly Review of the Arts, issued to the media only:- and plan to publish Captain George's Yellow Journal).

The question now is, do we keep on publishing Comic World? I've used the word "we" throughout this letter, but Comic World is yours truly, George Henderson... and it's costing me money. The minimum print run for newspapers is 2,000. To date, I've received under 100 subscriptions. Which means I have a "couple" of extra sets sitting around waiting to be purchased.

If you'd like to see Comic World go on it's merry way, pick up the first 10 issues ($3.00), then write me a letter TELLING ME what you'd like to see published in subsequent issues. It would be nice to know that SOMEBODY likes what I'm doing. It can get awful lonely working blind, you know.

Best to all

Captain George Henderson

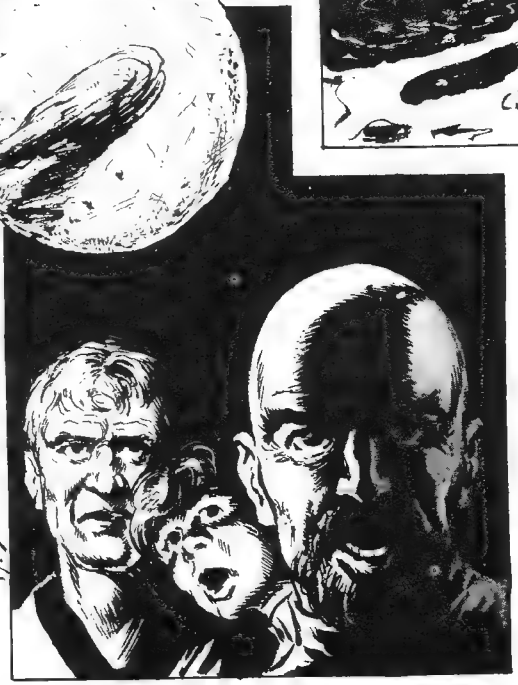
The SAVAGE EARTH

CHAP. 5
"CAVERNS OF THE INFERNOCS"

THROUGH A LABYRINTH OF TORCH LIT CAVERNS THE CAPTIVES ARE LED; DEEP INTO THE EARTH ALONG NARROW CAT-WALKS THAT SPAN BOILING WATERS BELOW.
"ALAN!" WHISPERS ARGON, "HE ISN'T WITH US!"..... "WHEN THEY JUMPED US HE WAS THERE ....THEN?," RETURNS KIRK.

LOUDER AND LOUDER .... THEN "IT" EMERGES FROM THE CAVERN!



ARGON, KIRK & PAUL STAND TRANS-FIXED .... UNBELIEVING!

IS IT TRULY YOU DR. ARGON? SO YOUR RESEARCH WAS A SUCCESS; AS YOU CAN SEE, SO WAS MINE!.... BUT PERHAPS YOU DO NOT RECOGNIZE YOUR OLD COLLEAGUE, I HAVE CHANGED A BIT...HA, HA!
NEWTON

But...
WHERE IS FREEZE? DURING THE WILD FRACUS HE HAD MANAGED TO SLIP INTO A DARK CREVICE IN THE ROCKS. NOW HE STEALS BACK TO CAMP FOR HIS PISTOL..
ONLY MINUTES BEHIND..... NOW TO "EVEN THIS BALL GAME!"

NEXT: "DESTRUCTON; THE IMMORTAL BRAIN!"

COMIC WORLD presents "Tarzan" by Hal Foster Part Four copyrighted by Edgar Rice Burroughs Inc.

-AND TARZAN JUST HAD TIME TO DUCK INTO THE MEAGRE SHELTER OF A PIT PROP BEFORE AN EARTH SHATTERING EXPLOSION ROARED LIKE THUNDER AND ERUPTED IN A SHOWER OF DEBRIS.

THE OTHERS RUSHED TO THE SPOT AS SOON AS THE DEBRIS STOPPED FALLING.
"TARZAN IS FINISHED," SAID ONE, "NO MAN COULD LIVE THROUGH THAT EXPLOSION!"

When you purchase MM, you may be assured that you will receive only the best in thoughtful articles, reviews, and analyses, and some of the best in experimental and traditional styles in fanzine art.

Marvel Mirror is printed by photo-offset in a newsletter format, and all copies are mailed in envelopes. The current issues are #s 11 and 12*13 (a special doubled-up issue); a resume of contents follows...

CONTENTS OF MM #11: "An Interview With the Yellow Claw," by Tony Isabella--a humorous account of the Wandering Fan's capture by the Oriental master of mystery and the subsequent very strange revelations; "The Fifth Column," by Dwight Decker--this issue featuring a lengthy probe into the concept of the super-villain and his role in the world of the super-hero; "There Are More Things in Heaven and Earth..." by Greg Kishel--an analysis of the mistreatment of the alien-being theme in Marvel's SF-based stories; "Some Thoughts on the X-Men," by Bill Henley--a short rebuttal to some of Greg Kishel's theories on mutants; art by Dave Russell, Steven D. Utley, Kurt Luchs, and Alan Hanley; the usual editorial; and fanzine plugs.

CONTENTS OF MM #12*13: Due to an abundance of fine and long articles, issues 12 and 13 were combined into one issue. "The Fifth Column," by DR Decker, featuring an incredibly fine dissertation on the philosophical differences between Captain America and the Red Skull; a lengthy article by Wayne Warfield on the early Two-Gun Kid stories of the Forties and Fifties; "The Future in Marvel," by Greg Kishel--a probe into Marvel's disorganized handling of the theme of future history; "Lest California Sink!" by Dwight Decker and Greg Kishel--an insane adventure of the mighty MarvelMen (heroes all!); "The Nightmare Universe of Dr. Strange," by Bill Henley--a reconciling of the black-magic universe of Dr. Strange with the super-scientific universe of the other Marvel heroes; covers by Dave Russell and Dave Transue, and art by Alan Hanley, Kurt Luchs, and Steve Utley.

And the prices? #11 goes for 20¢, and #12*13 goes for 35¢, mailed flat in a manila.

ORACLE and ODYSSEY: Ye ed is distributor for two British fanzines edited by MarMir's British correspondent and distributor, Haydn Paul. Oracle is Britain's first and only newszine. I have a limited number of copies available (25 to be exact) of Oracle #5, and they'll go to you for 20¢, mailed via first class in an envelope. Oracle features comprehensive reviews of British and American fanzines and comics. Odyssey, on the other hand, is the first thing of its type in the world: a British fanzine aimed solely at American readers! Odyssey #1 should be available in the U.S.A. by the time you are reading this. Odyssey will be devoted to reviews of the British comics and fanzines only and will have exclusive information on how to obtain such material. Among the slated contents of the first issue is an article by British fan/pro Steve Moore. Steve was sub-editor of Fantastic, the now-defunct chief comic of the Power Comics Group that reprinted the Marvel stories in Great Britain. Today he is on the editorial staff of I.P.C. Magazines, now Britain's chief comic house. In his article Steve delineates the death of the Power Group (which most American fans aren't even aware of) and the reasons behind it--an exclusive! Also in Odyssey #1 will be articles and reviews by other top-name British fans including Haydn Paul, Derek Skinn, Paul Neary, and more. Odyssey #1 will go for 35¢, mailed in an envelope. Both Oracle and Odyssey are printed by photo-copy (photo-offset was planned but later found to be unavailable); Oracle has 12 pages and Odyssey has 24. Broaden your interests now and find out about our sister fandom across the Atlantic!

Back issues of Marvel Mirror still available are #s 5, 6, 7, and 8, at 15¢ each, and #s 9 and 10, at 20¢ each. #s 1-4 sold out; supplies dwindling on #s 5-8!

SPECTACULAR SPECIAL OFFERS: For those of you who are interested in package deals that save time and bother, here are a few:

Special Offer #1: For $1.00 cash, you'll get issues 5-11, mailed flat in a manila--seven issues, normal value $1.15, for a buck.

Special Offer #2: For $1.50 you'll get issues 5-13 mailed flat.

Special Offer #3: For $2.00 you'll get MarMir #s 5-13, Oracle #5, and Odyssey #1, total value $2.35 (wowie zowie)!

If you pay by check or money order, be sure to make it out to GREG KISHEL, NOT TO MARVEL MIRROR. No checks for amounts below $1.00, please!

SPECIAL NOTICE: Ragnarok is coming sooner than I had expected. Ragnarok is, of course, the giant final issue with which I'll be completing my publication of Marvel Mirror. A multitude of unforeseen complications kept me from following my original publication schedule, so the last normal issue of MM will be #12*13. Ragnarok, technically numbered MM #14, will be out in late August and will be the greatest death any fanzine has ever died. Current plans are for a 40-page, wraparound offset issue. The contents will feature the finest-ever new work by the entire staff, work by some of the best non-staff fans, and as much professional work as I can cadge! A preliminary announcement on the contents of Ragnarok is in #12*13; watch for RB&CC #65 for a full-page advert!

A note to subscribers: since my previous plans were to discontinue with #13 and most of you subscribed through that issue, you will be allowed credit on Rag commensurate with the remaining amount on your subscription. A notification of your credit has been/will be sent with your copy of #12*13. --GK

Fans! A new zine is on its way! The title...THE AMATEUR COMICZINE, featuring comic scripts drawn by myself and other contributors. It will probably be out in August, if not sooner. Anyone may contribute a well-drawn comic script running from 2 to 6 pages or a well-written story they would like printed...so here's your chance to have your work published. Probably all will be accepted, unless they look like first-grade work. So please contribute. I know that there are many trashy amateur zines on the market, so let's make ours the best. Send contributions (on 8½" by 11" paper with margins) to: Michael Graycar, 1415 Dakar Street, Jacksonville, Florida 32205. PLEASE CONTRIBUTE

Hi fun-seekers! You have been waiting for this issue of RB-CC so that you might look over the various ads and perhaps purchase some decent comics at some SANE prices. Look no further. I think you will find my prices not only reasonable but also low. The condition of all items is at least very good, with the majority being near mint to mint. Any exceptions are noted: g-good; f-fair; p-poor; c-coverless; tp-taped; t-torn. Please include 25¢ extra when your order is less than $5.00. All prices are per item. Discount Plan: You may deduct 10% if you order $15.00 or more. Deduct 15% if you order $30.00 or more.

UP FOR BID OR TRADE

Due to a lack of space I must part with my Archie collection. This is a good chance for someone to obtain almost all the Archie series comics printed from 1955 to 1969. There are no duplicates and all comics after 1955 are mint having been bought directly from the newstand. There are also many from before 1954. The comics will go to the highest bidder, preferably all to one person.

I also have 1000's of Sunday pages from 1930 to the present for sale or trade. Just send a list of the strips you collect and I will give you a list of what I have.

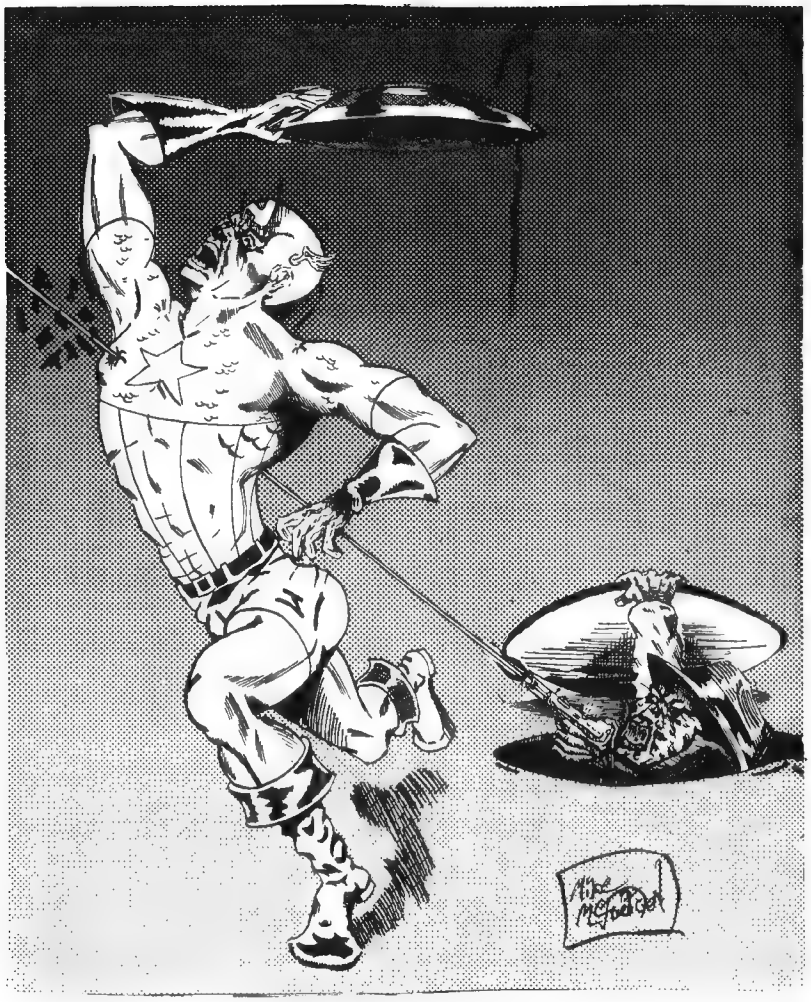
AUDIO ADVENTURES



Now, for the first time ever, fandom will have a fanzine that is actually on a record-disc! Yes, after months of preparation, we are ready to present what will soon be the "talk" of fandom--a real "radio" zine! AUDIO ADVENTURES not only has a "gimmick", but also can provide effects that are not available in the standard zine. Let us show you a couple of the advantages: Can John Q. Publiczine add real life to a work of fiction? No, but AUDIO ADVENTURES can! Can a poem on paper express the real meaning it has behind it? No, but spoken poetry can! AUDIO ADVENTURES can do all this and much more. AUDIO ADVENTURES will be pressed on 7 inch record-discs that allow up to 8½ minutes on each side. No, these are not the thin, flimsy discs that you sometimes see privately made, but real hard-plastic, monaural 33 1/3 r.p.m. recordings that produce high-quality reproductions of the original sounds. Plus, at no extra charge, you get an imprinted label on the disc and a sleeve to store it in. By now you are probably wondering how much all this will cost. Even with all these extras, you will receive the entire zine for an amazingly low price. In fact, the more orders we receive, the smaller the price will be. For specific prices, see the table below. Even if this ad is doing its purpose you are still not yet convinced that AA will be worth your money. You want to know what the format will be. Well, here is the general layout of the first issue: A reading of Lewis Sanders' poem "Blood Hotel"; a satire piece entitled "Stan Lee's Home Life"; a radio serial; and possibly, if we can clear it thru the proper channels, a very special feature which is still top secret. As for following issues, we are not quite sure yet. One thing, tho. If you guys really go for AA, we might do the second ish in the larger 12 inch size disc that can have up to 24 minutes of solid fantasy per side! The release-date of #1 will be around mid-August. This seemingly distant date is necessary for a number of reasons, one of which being the amount of time it takes to get the records pressed. We know you will understand this small problem. Thanx. Any well-written super-hero radio-play or serial, poem, or other contribution that would be appropriate for AUDIO ADVENTURES is welcome. But please, nothing that requires more than 6 voices or a female voice.

The following is a partial list of my collection of authentic radio programs. These programs are for sale or trade. My price is $4.00 per hour or I will trade hour for hour. I will also trade for BLB's in Good condition or better. All programs are complete as far as story content is concerned, a very marked few might have parts of beginnings or endings missing, but does not detract from the program. All tapes are recorded at 3 3/4 ips. unless otherwise specified.

Sound quality is as follows:

EXCELLENT: Broadcast quality, may have a slight hiss or hum but sharp and clear.

VERY GOOD: Consists of a clear program with minimal hiss or hum, or may contain a slight distortion, but provides for pleasurable listening.

FINE: Sound is better than good but less than very good; listening still easy.

GOOD: Has enough hiss or hum, or other faults to make pleasurable listening slightly difficult.

FAIR/POOR: Not reccmanded to anyone but serious diehard of that particular series

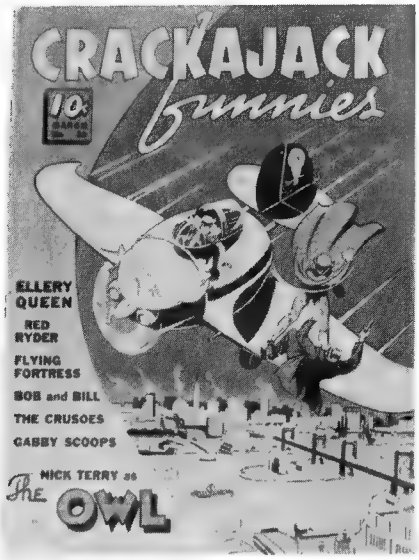
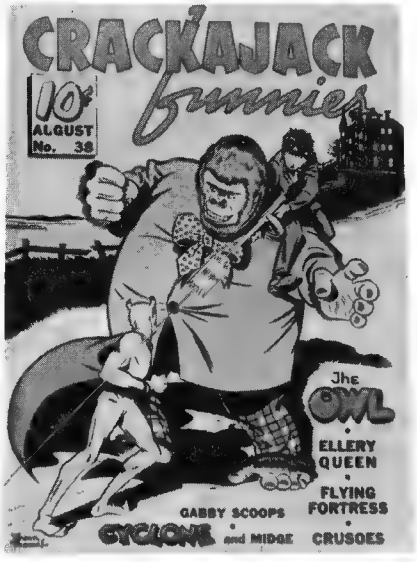
AN IMPORTANT MESSAGE FROM THE EDITOR:

Well fans, it is time to get down to brass tacks. Do you REALLY want a continuation of more non-ad material in the RB&CC and do you really want THE GOLDEN AGE published on a regular schedule?? I am getting to believe you don't, especially when it comes to actually contributing. It is unfair to ask people like Raymond Miller, Howard Siegel, Don Newton, John Fantucchio, etc. to do more. They are already do their share (and in some cases, MORE). It is also unfair to ask the younger fans (though many are willing) to do top grade art and articles. In most cases, they just don't have the collections or experience to work from. This is not always true, but it is usually the case. Therefore, it is up to you older fans to do it. People like Jim Jones, Tom Fagan, Richard Buckler, Biljo White, Larry Herndon, Alan Hanley, Howard Keltner, Charles Sexton, Buddy Saunders, D. Bruce Berry, Alan Hutchinson, Bill Spicer, Paul Gambaccini, Ken Mitchell, Phil Seuling, so on, and so on. We need good, well-researched articles, good pieces of art (covers, two page pen-ups, etc.) and ideas for new features like the PICTO QUIZ in THE GOLDEN AGE #4. Topics??? I can rattle them off all day: In-depth articles on individual comic titles like LOONEY TUNES, LITTLE LULE, WOODY WOODPECKER, NEW FUNNIES, W.DISNEY COMICS, And almost any of the old super hero titles, plus articles on collecting serial & movie posters, a really long and exhaustive article on the Fawcett (something that has been badly needed for a long time), an article on the M.E. Comic group, articles on old radio shows, the great old B-Westerns, etc., etc., etc., etc. I have named only a few of you fans, there are many more of you, plus some of you pros. We cannot do it alone !!

CRACKAJACK FUNNIES #33 and 38

From the M.C.Goodwin collection





COMIC COLLECTORS COMMENTS

BY HOWARD F. SIEGEL

LET'S START OFF.....with a quiz for you movie serial experts. Below are listed the chief villian and the serial/movie title they appeared in. Match them up. This is a toughy, so RB-CC will award 6 heavy duty, crystal clear vinyl comic envelopes to the first three all correct replies. Remember, as with all contributions or entries, the deadline is the same as the ad deadline listed in the front of this issue :

A. The Ghost	1. Capt. America
B. The Gargoyle	2. Fighting Devil Dogs
C. Vultura	3. Officer 444
D. Dr. Daka	4. Dick Tracy vs. Crime, Inc.
E. The Scorpion	5. Phantom
F. Lightning	6. Capt. Marvel
G. The Scarab	7. Mystery Mountain
H. Wolf-Devil	8. Batman
I. The Rattler	9. Perils of Nyoka
J. The Frog	10. Queen of the North Woods
K. The Octopus	11. The Spider's Web
L. Dr. Bremmer	12. The Spider Returns

SHOCKING.....the way some super-heroes refuse to pay their electric bill. Some of the delinquents are Nedor's Pyroman; Fox's Dynamo; Holyokes' Volton; Dynamic's Firebrand; Novelty's Blue Bolt; Family's Shock Gibson; Marvel's Iron Man, and perhaps more. The point is that almost every publishing house had at least one character whose powers were electrically derived. Add to the list if you can.....

DID LEONARD (ON STAGE) STARR.....realize a secret ambition when Captain Virtue appeared in the last panel of the Sunday comics page dated July 31, 1966 ?

GOOD NIGHTS.....Smash's Midnight; All-American's Dr. Mid-Nite; Fawcett's Capt. Midnight; Charlton's Nightshade; Comic House's Nigh-T-Ro; Green Mask's Nightbird; Clue Comic's Nightmare (a great costume in the early issues). Any more ?

GREAT ALUMNI MEETINGS.....of recent years : Mighty Crusaders #4 (what potential if Radio had a decent editorial and art staff); J.L.A. #21.

TITLE CONSCIOUS ? .....golden age covers were between 1/4 and 1/3 title. Notice how the word "Comics" often was as large as the name of the magazine ? However, I don't think any of the vintage specimens could match the cover of Flash #174. For contrast, get your maginfying glass and look for the name "Showcase" on #76, the Bat Lash premiere issue.

THE REAL ARTISTS.....of the golden age were those who specialized in doing the covers. Take a look at Green Lantern #1; Capt. Marvel, Jr. #1, Adventure #44 and convince yourself. The best test is to compare the inside art work with the frontspiece.

AN ENJOYABLE GET-TOGETHER.....last March with Mike Friedrich, in from California between school semesters to receive his assignments from DC. It is Mike's feeling that much of the needed "continuity" will be injected into many titles before long, thus satisfying many DC critics, including this writer. Mike is fortunate to be doing the bulk of his scripting for "roomies" Julie Schwartz and Dick Giordano. Speaking of the latter, had "Tricky Dick" been given more time and opportunity at Charlton, the foundation he laid for their action hero line might have gone far. Based upon their early 1969 efforts, I would say that Mike and Denny O'Neill are proving their worth and have come up with some good stuff for DC.

TAKE A LOOK.....at page 28 of RB-CC #52 for a glimpse at the future. You'll see a noteworthy picture of the Gardner Fox-Stan Lee-John Broome of the '70's. The three lads in the horn rimmed glasses are Dave Kaler (Charlton), the above mentioned Denny O'Neill and Marvel's former pet ocelot owner Roy Thomas.

CLASSICAL EXAMPLE.....of the rise and fall of a great title : The Spectre ! Remember how every DC magazine carried a banner on the top of every page announcing that "The Spectre Is Coming" ? The Ghostly Guardian arrived in spectreacular fashion in Showcase #60, and still had much lustre when he got his own title. Then he was gradually defrocked on powers, in the same manner that caused his demise in the forties. History repeated itself !

ENVY.....a guy like MARK HANERFELD, editor of the excellent publication the "Comic Reader". He's doing DC's Fact Files and Wonderful World of Comics. This gives him entree' to DC's comic library. How many of you would like to spend a few hours there ???

I KNOW....someone who has forty complete runs of Marvel comics in mint condition, (I stopped counting at fifteen). He's jolly Ruby Auerbach of My Friends Book Shop in Brooklyn. Marvel calls him when they need an additional copy or can't find an early issue in their files.

DC SPECIAL.....an all Simon & Kirby issue. A wonderful thought but also an impossibility. You don't publicize your competition's personnel. But just think of it...The Sandman, Manhunter, Boy Commandos, Challengers, Newsboy Legion & Guardian, etc !

DON'T EXPECT.....Brother Power, The Geek to win this year's Alley Award for the best new comic of 1968. A Raggedy Andy doll that fights crooks ??????????

SECRET ORIGINS #3.....if published last year might have included the following : Hawkman, Doom Patrol, Metamorpho, Sea Devils, Elongated Man, Teen Titans and the first meeting of Hawkman and The Atom. This year.....you finish the punchline.....

SCORE CARD.....some of the better recent offerings:

Strange Adventures #219. Shows how great some comics were in the late fifties-early sixties. Adam Strange-Atomic Knights-Space Cabby. All winners !

X-Men #58. Neal Adams does it again ! Uncle Roy and the Sentinals helped.

Sub-Mariner #16 - great plot and location. Someone read Doc Savage's "Sargasso Ogre".

Showcase #83 - the second Nightmaster (add him to the "Good Nights" list) outing far superior to the initial effort.

Iron Man #17 - many interesting facets leading to an overall situation good for five issues at least. What does Mme. Masque really look like ? Dr. Dooms sister ?

MAIL DEPARTMENT.....First, congratulations to MASAO KONO of Hawaii. He's the first contributor to this column, and in being number one, was sent a double dose of comic envelopes. Masao's comments :

In Marvel's Dr. Strange #174, a letter from 42 MCFC members complained that Stan Lee's heroes were "getting weaker by the day". In contrast, DC's Flash #183 had several critics who complained that the Scarlet Speedster was becoming too powerful ! My title for this contrib would be : YOU CAN'T WIN THEM ALL.....

Thanks to Duffy Vohland, who really did some research, and along with John Clark of Tempe, Arizona and Ivy Wayson of Memphis, Tenn., became the three winners of the A to Z Animal Named Super Hero contest. The vinyl comic envelopes are on their way to you fellers ! A few notes on this : First, some of you missed Ibis the Invincible and others better consult the dictionary for the difference between a Lama (as in Green Lama), which is a buddist monk, and a LLama, a camel like animal of So. America. My research could come up with no super-hero to fill the letters N,Q,U,V or X. To those of you who listed Nightbird (Fox Publications) for N, there aint such an animal.....

A special thanks to Bruce Pedlar of Lindsay, Canada. Bruce really put a lot of effort into his letter, and came up with some excellent contributory material. As a result, he earned both the comic envelopes and the Marvel Super Hero min-pennants in vinyl jackets. First, Bruce came up with a super-hero who indeed, has a costume that completely covers him from head to toe. It's Capt. Biljo White's creation The Eye. To those of you who offered The Avenger's Black Panther, please note that despite artistic license, he has eye slits in the mask, ala Batman. Bruce also wrote that another "wee super-hero" is the Doom Patrol's Elasti Girl. Under "Wingheads", he offered Fireman (Centeur), and sure enough, there he was on page 17 of Comic Collector's Handbook Vol. II, wings on his hood and all. And finally, here's Bruce's big offering .....

SOMEBODY STOP SUPERGIRL.....before she breaks our banks ! She has had three major events in her career. The first was when she was introduced in secret. At that time comics cost 10¢.

Next, Superman introduced her to the world, and comics went up to 12¢. Now she recently won her own book (Adventure) length feature, and, you guessed it, comics now cost 15¢.

Since I received a good reaction to the A to Z quiz, here's another one for you armchair comicologists :

COLOR CONSCIOUS?.....here are four popular colors : black, red, blue and green. To the first six who submit the largest list of super-heroes whose name contains one of these colors will go an RB-CC prize. In order for an entry to count, you must give the name of the comic book he appeared in. For example : Green Lantern-All American Comics; Blue Beetle-Mystery Men Comics; Red Raven-Red Raven Comics; etc.....Jerry Bails and Ray Miller will compete with 25 handicaps !!

COMING NEXT ISSUE,.....the answers and winners of the movie serial quiz; one on newspaper comic strips; a few tidbits about the New York Comicon; and hopefully a lot more of your contributions. I think this issues winners will tell you that the effort is really worth it - so come on !

FINALLY,.....my apologies to G.B. for overextending the size of this issue's column, There was really a lot to write about.....which I'm glad of. Send your mail to : 3539 Decatur Avenue, B ronx, N.Y. 10467.

YOUR COMICS WHOLESALER---R.J. BANKS

My recent advertisement in RB&CC taught me two important lessons: First, there was sufficient response to indicate that a wholesale supplier of recent comics is more needed right now than just another small retailer. Second, the response was enough less than I had expected to indicate my rates were too high to attract desired volume business from retailers who deal in recent comics and that the quantities offered discouraged beginning collectors from ordering comics from me at wholesale as sort of "starter kits" for their collections. I sincerely hope that the new rates & quantities offered below will remedy both situations.

WHOLESALE OFFERINGS

1. Marvel and D.C. Super-hero comics only, in fair proportions (about as many from one publisher as the other),1967-70 issues, again in fair proportions without concentrating on any one year. My choice only $14 per 100.
2. Other publishers' Super-hero comics, plus miscellaneous types (horror, Western, Funnies, Adventure, etc., etc., including some from Marvel and/or D.C. but none of their Super-heroes), 1967-70 issues (fair proportion regarding dates). My choice only $8 per 100.
3. Same publishers and proportions as #1, above, 1963-66 issues. My choice only $25 per 100.
4. Same publishers and proportions as #2, above, 1963-66 issues. My choice only $15 per 100.
5. D.C. Super-heroes comics only, fair proportions regarding dates, 1959-62 issues. My choice only $50 per 100.

These prices good while supplies last. I have about 12,000 comics now in stock, three-fourths of them covered by the above categories. Can do limited amount of re-stocking, determined by demand.

Further ordering information.

Texans no longer need pay state and city sales tax on these Wholesale orders.
All patrons must add $2 to partially defray postage, handling & insurance costs on orders totalling under $20.
Orders totalling $50 or more may be discounted 10%, so you save more by ordering in quantity.
You take no risk, as I will refund on any unsatisfactory merchandise, including your postal expense.
Allow four weeks from date you mail order to me for comics to reach you. If I cannot fill your order, refunds will be somewhat faster than that.

TRADERS?

For a limited time only, I will allow trade credit of 25¢ per copy for Western comics, mint condition (or very, very near it) only, published prior to 1955.
I will allow trade credit of 25¢ per copy on any super-hero comic bearing a date earlier than 1950. These, too, must be at least near mint condition.

QNT 1

QUINTESSENCE is a fanzine that's good. To give you an idea of the quality of this zine, allow me to list some of the people on our staff: writers: MIKE ROBERTSON, TONY ISABELLA, SHIRLEY GORMAN, MIKE HOWELL, RANDY SHEPHERD, BUCKY LARKINS, and GENE REED. Artists: KLAUS JANSON, TED WHITE, JOHN CORNELL, DAVE RUSSELL, and others. All but the newest fans have seen at least some of the quality produced by these. We can't give you a sample of our written material because of lack of room, but you will find a piece of QNT (QUINTESSENCE) artwork above. And let me remind you that all of our art is just as good, if not better. To assure good reproduction, QNT is printed photo offset. Another item to look for is an interview with Marvel's Barry Smith. There is also a free, offset supplement of ads, and other goodies.

QNT can be purchased for the low price of 30¢ from THE QNT TRIUMVERATE/1911 Pecan Lane/Albany, Georgia/31705. If you'd like your copy or copies mailed flat, enclose 5¢ extra. Order as soon as this ad is out to insure your getting a copy.

One more thing. If you would like to learn about a great new fan club (members get QNT cheaper, membership cards, newsletter, etc.) you can get info through The QNT Triumverate. Enclose a stamp for a reply. Thank you.

FANTABULOUS ORIGINAL ARTWORK SALE

INTRODUCTION: Original art by some of the best artists is always a thrill to own. An original is so much more rare and rewarding than a comic. Many thousands or hundreds of thousands of even the rarest Golden Age comics were printed at one time. Of course, only a fraction of these copies survived till today, less yet are in fandom today. But more copies of any prize issue, say Captain America 1 or SUperman 1, are being discovered and brought into fandom all the time. How many copies of Capt. Am. 1 or Superman 1 are owned by collectors today? Well, undoubtedly 10, and probably around 25 copies of these $125-200 comics are in the hands of fans.

But there is only ONE original for each page of any comic. And there can never be more than one, which makes any original a one-in-fandom item. Suitable for framing, more than three times as large as a comic page, showing the artist's style and brush strokes no printing can reproduce completely--- all of these factors make a GOOD original the focal point of a collection.

I know, because I have a large collection of comics as well as a bunch of originals. And do you know what? My originals mean more to me that the rarest of comics I have because they are so attractive and irreplaceable. The comics are stored out of sight and could always be replaced in case of some misfortune that destroyed them; but the orignals are on the walls, and could never be replaced.

Never before has comicdom had the OPPORTUNITY to buy originals on a large scale, with good selection, available to all fans who get the ROCKET'S BLAST. BUT, listed below are about 200 originals of the best quality I could manage to get from a high-ranking source. I doubt if such a supply will ever come through again in the future of fandom. But while I have the pages for sale, look them over and decide to buy one if you like. Priced lower than any rare Golden Age Comics, they are easy to afford by comparison. Now you can select the kind of art that only usually appears at a convention, with the heat of much competition generated around it.

Included here is the last story WALLY WOOD, the great EC and Thunder Agent artist, pencilled and inked--- the excellent Captain Action origin story. Also available are Neal Adams DC covers, impossible to get normally, KUBERT war, DITKO super-hero, and KANE recent work is also available.

Of course, you'd never be sorry to have a few originals, one-of-a-kind highlights to any collection. Their value can only increase inthe years to come; no doubles will ever be discovered. Early orders get the best choice; all prices include mailing costs and protective wrapping. HAPPY HUNTING!

Many changes have occured since the last ad. Number one change is in the editorship. So, welcome aboard my new partner.. ..JOHN ACHZIGER. All letters and subscriptions and contributions should go to him at the address above.

The Collectors Chronicle will be out in September, if not any sooner. The subscription rates are: 50¢ per copy $1.75 for 4 $3.70 for 8 Ad rates are: $7.75 - full page $4.25 - half page small ads - 10¢ per 7 inch typed line ready sheets - 25¢ per 100

All the above will have such names as MARTIN L. GREIM, RICHARD CONATY, DAVE JOERN, KEVIN RICHERT, JOHN ACHZIGER, JOE LUND, WILLIAM LUND and others attached to them.

All interested contributors please bear this in mind. Here we are again guys, the Marvel Tribune keeps marching on! We're still offering you one of the best buys in fandom--4 issues for the price of two! Besides photo-offset, wrap-around-binding, and general quality, we also feature professional artwork and articles. And by professional, we don't mean 2nd rate pros, but rather, the best in the business. (You know, the Stan Lee, Johnny Romita-type line...)) And of course too, there is our amateur staff (amateur in name only!), highlighted by the one and only Ted White! This kid is going places, so why not be here as he starts? Just send 60¢ (cash only) to RON LIBERMAN, 63 FONTAINBLEAU DR., WILLOWDALE 443, ONT., CANADA, and we'll send you our 7th, 8th, 9th, and 10th issues. Or, you can either send 30¢ for issues #10 & 7, or 30¢ for #9 and 8. Any way you look at it, you'll be buying a quality product, and a lot of enjoyment!

FOR SALE: The SET of X-MEN in MOSTLY MINT condition! This set (#1 - 50, including #1 in absolute mint condition) will go to the highest bidder. Send in your best offer because there will be no haggling. Write Ron Liberman at the above address, and do it now!

(The picture drawn below is again an older pic. It isn't too bad, but it is nowhere near our present art standard. The reason we print old pics is because we do not want to spoil your joy at seeing our newer ones in the Tribune. After all, what good would it be if we showed you our best stuff? Then everything else would be a let down. So buy the Tribune, we're so good, even our bad stuff is good! We're conceited a bit, but then we've got a right to be).

LAST CHANCE...

Fandom's Fans

Fandom's Fans, fandoms first people zine, is entering our last stages. August the 1st is the last day to submit information to it. However, do not wait until the last minute to submit the info because the earlier you send the info the better position you get in the zine. It costs nothing to have your name listed, and you are under no obligation to buy it.

Physcially, the zine will consist of 2 sections, dealer and fan. The listing will be placed exactly as you wanted it to be placed. The only restriction is as follows: please include this information:

1)Name, address, city, state, zip code
2)What comics do you collect?
3)What else do you collect?(big little books, radio tapes, etc.)
4)What fanzines do you work for?
5)Have you ever put out your own zine? What was it Name?
6)Are you a dealer? What things do you sell?
7)What fan organizations do you belong to?
8)Do you wish to be in the Fan section or Dealer section? I will put you in both if you wish!

Any thing else you would like to include that you think you wold like other collectors to know. As I said before, in other advertisements that this will contain the names and addresses of fandom's biggest collectors, the biggest dealers, most well-known zine editors andmost prestigous writers and artists. And for nothing but the cost of a card or letter, you can be listed along with them.

In addition to the free listing, there will be ad space available. The prices are as follows:

full page: $10
1/4 page: $2.50

A special section will be devoted to ads and I already have reservations from many people. In submitting an ad, don't! By that I mean, don't send me an ad but just a letter telling me how much room you want to take, and I will put it aside for you. I will notify you as to when to send your money and ad, this way when the ad sees print, it will not be outdated.

One last word, I really hope that you will send in your name because I feeel that this is the best thing to happen to fandom in a long time. It may serve to be the single link to all the people in fandom. So if you want it known that you are a fan, you this foolproof free method. If you don't care to be listed, what are you doing in fandom.

Best,
JOE BRANCATELLI JR.

DISNEYDOM has changed its name at the request of Walt Disney Productions to avoid any conflict with the titles of the comics printed under license at Gold Key. The new name is, simply, "A FANZINE." Features in A FANZINE #2 include:

-A seven page checklist of the Disney comics in the Dell Special Series
-An interview with Mr. Ben Sharpsteen who worked at the Disney Studios for nearly 40 years from 1929 and who won several Academy Awards for his work on the Disney "People and Places" and nature series.
-A progress report on the forthcoming Walt Disney Bibliography
-Feature articles on "The Jungle Book" and "The Love Bug"
-A look at the Duck family tree (Is Donald's love for Daisy in vain?) and much more in ten other articles and departments.

A FANZINE, fandom's only fanzine devoted exclusively to Walt Disney is more than 36 pages long, printed photo-offset with wrap around binding, and is yours for only 65¢. Order A FANZINE #2 now from:

Yes, Del's Book Service received over $100 in orders from a one page ad in DISNEYDOM #1. DISNEYDOM (new title for #2; "A FANZINE") is fandom's only fanzine devoted exclusively to the work of Walt Disney and the Walt Disney Studios. If you want to buy, sell or trade Disney material (or anything else, for that matter), this is the place. Circulation of #1 was 250, but #2 will leap up to 500.
